I have just had a conversation with a deserter from the Confederate army at Columbus. Ile states that he belongs to the First Mississippi Velley Regiment, and made his escape from Columbus on Sunday, the 29th ult. Gen. A. Sidney Johnston had command of the troops at Coumbus, amounting to over 10,000 men. They are aweiting an attack from the Federals, and contemplate an attack on Padncah. They are fortifying every available point near Columbus, working day and night. The hluff to the northeast of the town is strongly fortified. Gens. Pillow, Polk, and Cheatham are com-anding brigades. There ere large forces of cevalry there, well armed and equipped. Jeff Thompson is reported to be between Belmont and New Madrid, with 4,000 men. A great many desertions are occurring by those under his command, often as many as twenty-five at a time. They complain of the want of provisions end clothing. defence and strengthening their fortifications. Ship Island, which lies between New Orleans and Mobile, and which was fortilied by the Confiderates, has been entirely abandoned. The United States troops had taken pessession of Chandleur Island, and, according to a New Orleans paper, bad put up nine batteries, and were useking preparations for the reception of troops. They also intended to fortify Ship Island. Mobile is also moving to strengthen the Gnif coast. "The city authorities of Mobile," says the Advertiser, "have procured two lustations of light artillery and ample stores of ammunition." Fort Gaines is to be strengthened, and the reighboring coast is being attended to. The New Orleans Picayune calls upon the city enthorities to put every vessel in the harbor into commission, and to extend the chain of forts all the way to the Belize. The taking of Washington or the occupation of Maryland is of no consequence, it argues, compared with the loss of New Orleans and the seizure of the cotton crop. This alarm shows where the Confederates think their vulnorable spot lies.

thanks; on the contrary, he writes in the following incendiary manner:

Wa say to you Young Americas of Kantneky, stand "from under." Keep out of this fight. For whan the bedilgerents shall have axhausted each other, and the simple-minded peopla who are to be taxed out of their breeches to pay the expense, open their eyes to how they have been bamboozled, you may come in at the back gata and get something to do from the remnant of beef contractors and horse contractors that may be left. You will be privileged to driva males any way, particularly their Uncil Sam will have laying over on hands at dead expense. In looking at these troops, and remambering also what we have been reading about Polk, Buckner, Zollicoffer, Sherman, Thomas, Nelson, Bramlette, &c., &c., we could but think what would those men who asked Lincoln to let them recruit men and put them at Camp Robinson, to carry the war into East Tennesses, now give if they had nevar had autything to do with disturbing Kantucky in her nantrality. We would not be in the clothes of those men, if their names shall be found out, for the best command in the gift of the President of the United States, or Military Board of Kentucky, or Governor Magoffin, the bead of Kentucky army and navy. Tes, there is a history about that thing that will, when the war has been transferred from Virginia to Kentucky, and the latter has been rained in her pastures and her fields—her best young men his buried in their soldier graves—that will bring the curses of the women and children down upon their beads. They deserve that exactration of all right-minded people.

No doubt they feel now that they are getting much more than they bargained for when they got up Dick Robinson. Pitch in, most brave Colocels, Generals, &c., and beat back tha invaders and in the second and children down upon their beads.

Such a tisse of blackguardism, misrepresen tation, and bad grammar, is equalled only by the turgid, bombastic, and treasonable language of the editorials in the Yeoman which preceded this new dodge of admitting commumeations without directly endorsing them. It is not worth the space it would occupy to show the malignant spirit which prompts this writer. He does not make one single declaration which is supported by proof. He refers to taxation when he would drive Kentucky into sharing the bankruptcy of the Confederate States; he encers at contractors because he and his friends have been unable to get their harpy hands upon the Federal treasury; he deprecates the estab-Ishment of loyal camps on our soil when we were menaced by rebel camps in Tennessee; he asserts that Camp Robinson was established to carry war into East Tennessee, when every loyal Kentuckian new sees that, had it no been for Camp Robinson, nothing could have prevented Zollicoffer and his thieving associates from devastating all Eastern Kentucky up to the very borders of the Ohio river; he assumes that the Union men have brought war and ruin and devastation npon our fields and pastures, when before high Heaven the fact is that the rebel leaders are alone responsible for such atrocious acts; he encers at the efforts of those who so unpreparedly, but vigorously, have endeavored to beat friends, in defiance of the most sacred habiback the raids from our soil, and evinces a tudes of civilized society, in defiance of the fiendish exultation in the hope that disaster clear and loud dictates of humanity, in defimay attend them. Surely, surely the young ance of the commonest decency, and in defimen of Kentucky cannot be deluded by such unvarnished treachery. Snrely they will not ate to answer the call of such loyal Kentuckians as Generals Anderson, Crittenden, Rousseau, and Boyle, and Colonels Jackson. Selling Liquor to Soldiers.—It is important that all tavern and restaurant keepers should know the requirements of the act which was passed by the Legislature last week and is now a law in full force. The act makes it unlawful for any one to sell to any officer or soldier, within five miles of any military camp, under penalty of a fine not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars for every offence. Any commissioned officer of a camp may have an offender against this act arrested and carried before a justice of the peace, who shall, as a court of inquiry, hold the party arrested to bail, to answer before the Circuit Court, or discharge him, as the proof may require. The provisions of the act do not of course prevent the purchase of liquor by the medical department of the army. We hope to see full efficiency given to the salutary provisions of this law, which was passed at the suggestion of Gen. Anderson. Its exferement is requisite to the preservation of proper discipline and to protect the health of our soldiers.

On the night of the 7th is s'ant company or equad of cavalry from Luckner band visited the house of Dr. Walton, Senate from Hart, and broke open his house, closets, an tranks, stealing sundry articles of bedding and groceries; also a horse belonging to Col. ( T. Wood; they also entered the house of Davi Maxey and pillaged beds and bedding, and hor and males, and hung up his negro man, to comp him to tel where Mr. Maxey and Mr. Pois his con-in-law, were. They also stole Mr. P horse and saddle. This squad was commanded Monroe Adair, formerly of Greensburg.

CAMP ANDY JOHNSON.—This encampment he been formed at Greensburg, Ky., under the command of Eig. Gen. Ward, a gallant officer of much experience, and is filling up rapidly. Ward's men have secured many Home Gna gues that would otherwise have gone into th hands of Buckner & Co. They have also stopp veral thousand dollars worth of contra band goods. It is one of the most impo-points in the State, and is closely watched. This encampment presents strong claims on rities for immediata assistance in the way of the sinews of war. It numbers about 1.5 men, placed there by the private enterprise of few patriotic citizens.

AFFAIRS IN GENTRY COUNTY .- The rebelli Nashvilla Union and American of the 2d says that two gentlemen arrived in the city on the lat, direct from Fentress county, report the existence of a deplorable state of affairs in that coup ty. They report that the Union men there are very refractory, and that they have killed four or five Sonthern men, together with the state of affairs in that county.

COL, Popa's REGIMENT.-The field officers of Col. Curran Pope's regiment, at Camp Sherman make a stirring appeal to-day to the patriotism of the young men of Kentucky. It will be seen that arrangements have been made whereby re-cruits will receive an advance of one month's pay THEATRE.-The "Corps Dramatiqua" now forming at the theatre is without exception he best for comic talent (end that is what we want the antumn of 1850 when Tom Placide played his New Orleans company to crowded honses and than ever before, and no fears of ins the general gratification of all. Among the company we have a few familiar faces. Mr. Dawson, the stage manager, known as one of the best eccentric and most gentlemanly artists of the day; Mrs. Laws, who in Mrs. Malaprop, has no superior; Mr. Wood Benson, a first lass farcien, full of "broad humor"; Mr. Hamilon, and the felr lessee herself, who are both nost acceptable; and Mr. Krone, who is always maeter of his part and deservedly a favorite; Mr. Mecauley, an admirable actor of comedy heroee, and we opine also of tragic ones whenever these fall to his lot, is new to us; Mr. Edwards, also, whose delineations of old men leave nothing to be wished f r; and, though last not least, his wife, who gains upon our admiration each time we witness her exertions, whether as the sentimental young lady in difficulties, the deshing medienne, or the piquante soubrette. With a company of such talent, the broad field of whole come comedy and mirth-moving farce is open to the management. The rich mines of intellectual enjeyment, the works of Goldsmith and Sheridan, leman, Tom Taylor, &c., &c., are at their command. Let them give us "She Stoops to Conquer," "The Rivals," &c., &c., and they will see their benches crowded as of old with the beauty and fashion of our city. "Naval Engagements," as played two or three nights ago, was a treat. Let us have some more of such nirable pieces, as admirably acted, and we shall langh and grow fat in spita of the war. THE LOUISVILLE CONFERENCE -The Louis-

A Wonderful Fortification in Kentucky. Among the relics in which Kentneky abounds o he work of ages anterior to the presence of the Anglo-Saxon on the Western Hemisphere, one of he most remarkable is said to exist in Allen ounty, on the Tennessee border, and seventeen niles from Bowling Green, where a wall of solid stone, two hundred yards in length, forty feet high, thirty feet at the base, and six feet wide at the top, crosses a neck formed by a bend into Tennesses.

It is said in Southern Kentucky that Z-liceffer in Drake's Creek, and incloses a peninsula of two bundred acree, inclosed by a wall and a ditch, forming one of the strongest forfreeses in the at Bawling Green, in addition to seven thousand at Bawling Green, in addition to seven thousand forming one of the strongest fortresses in the world. It is not improbable that the fortness of war may cause this old fortification to be occupied by a hostile force, and made to play a prominent part in this civil contest.

REBEL DEPREDATIONS, -We find the following extract from a letter written by e gentleman of Barboursville, Ky., to a fried in Lexington in the Observer and Reporter of yeslerday. The writer is a perfectly reliable man, and occupies a position of trust and responsibility in the place of his res-Idence. It confirms fally all the provious reports in regard to the infamous depredations by the rebel maranders under Zullicoffer. The letter is will leave for Carrellton at the usual hour this deted Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle county, October 31, to which place the writer had been forced to take refuge: The infernal rebels have destroyed everything we had in the world. They have even taken every stitch of clothing except what I have on any back. They sheal everything they can get their hands upon, even to bed clothing, ladies clothing, and ladies jewelry. Their depresations put to shame the most heather ration and the most savege mode of warfare. I have not time to tell you of the various encornlities they have perpetrated, but the worst that you can conceive would not do them justice.

Dectors Hemeston and Swolm, of the Fonr-teenth Brocklyn Regiment, who ware taken prisoners at fiull Run, arrived here this evening, via Fortress Monroe, from Richmend. They were released on parole, and came with the fifty-seven wounded prisoners. They give a most deplorable account of the condition of our wounded and of the manner in which they have been treated by the rebels. According to their accounts, our prisoners have suffered ell the torments of the damned, and the wonder is that eny of them are nowalive. It now appears that the 57 wounded, whom they released, were casee which the rebel ductors could not cure, and therefore they were permitted to reinra home.

The rebel Government had learned something regarding the probable expedition South. It produced the greatest excitement throughout the Gulf and Cotton States. It was believed thet vast numbers of the troops now in Virginia would be called to the respective States where these attacks were apprehended.

evidently the work of an incendiary, as the dis befo.

Efforts are being made here to organize companies of Mirsouri rangers to carry on gnerrilla warfare after the style of the rebels. Generals bounded orders to march from Kansas City and oin Gen. Sigel at Sedalia. Gen. Sigel sent out detachment of three bundred men on Sunday ast to enterfar a robel supply train.

Sevidently the work of an incendiary, as the distillery had not been in operation for more than a year. Tha loss is probably not less than $10,000, on which there was hat little if any insurance. The property had been assigned to W. L. Ewing, of St. Lonis, and Mr. McEwan, of Madison.

The Cotton Crop.—Gov. Moore, of Louisi-

THE COTTON CROP.-Gov. Moore, of Louis ana, has issued the fellowing proclamation: Concerring entirely in the views expressed hy the cotton factors of Naw Orleans, in the annexes communication, I have determined to take the most decided manns to prevent the landing of an octton in this city. Notice is, therefore, her by cotton in this city. Notice is, therefore, hereby given to all masters and owners of steamboats and other water creft, that from and after the 10th day of October, inst., no cotton must be brought to New Orleans or within the lines embracing that section of the country between the fortifications above Carrollton and those below tha city, and extending hack to the lake. All steamboats or other water craft arriving within the prescribed limits will be forthwith placed in charge of an armed force and escorted above the point ladicated. This course will be edopted in all cases, whether the quantity of cotton brought be large or small.

[By Telegraph to the Nashville papers.]

RICHMOND, Oct. 3.

Everything is quiet here. Passengers by this afternoon's train report the hurning of Fall's Church by the Federals, who advanced to that point after the Confederates fell back. With this exception, no news.

Nothing from Western Virginia.

The Delta's correspondent says Capt. Mansfield Lowell, formerly of the Federal army, has been created Brigadier General, and assigned to duty on the coast defenses at New Orleans.

We hays advices from Lee's camp of the 27th alt., when the enemy was in eight. Both armies occupy the came monntains. President Davis has not yet raturned from Manasses. The faderalists are occupying Manson's Hill. Van Dorn has been assigned duty on the Potomac.

MOBILT, October 2.

Two hundred and forty-six prisoners arrived hare, and left to-day by rail for New Orleans.
